Dear THMS Supporters,

I’m reminded that for many families in Mississippi, this year has brought heartaches as well as a range of physical and emotional challenges, particularly in the wake of a global pandemic. For rural youth who lack access to resources and information about health and healthcare (including sexual and reproductive health, mental health, and youth-friendly healthcare), the impact of COVID-19 has only exacerbated an already tenuous situation. Simply put, our youth are in a race for their lives!

This year’s circumstances has only strengthened THMS’s resolve for supporting youth in our state.

One way we’re supporting communities is by bringing our course offerings to a virtual space. Our facilitators spent months mastering the art of engaging audiences in virtual and in-person spaces. And guess what! It paid off big time! This year, we’ve double the number of trusted adults attending our training from last year (total trained 667 adults on SRH and youth-friendly healthcare strategies). In addition, our youth reached over 1 million individuals on our social media platforms through their posting of mental health and sexual health videos and other resources. The increase in participants and social media engagers is indicative of two key points: 1) our communities desperately need information and 2) we’re answering the call!

Our work is by no means a sprint; it’s a marathon. Join us in helping our youth run and win the race for their lives!

In unity,

Hope L Crenshaw, PhD
Letter from Youth Partner

With this being my second year of being a part of Teen Health Mississippi with the ME Project, I have been given this opportunity to gain helpful information and resources to help teens in my area locally and throughout the state.

The project and Teen Health Mississippi value youth influencers’ ideas and employ them into content to show how much they care about helping teenagers throughout the state. As a youth influencer on the ME project, which aims to help teens with sexual, mental, emotional, and reproductive health, this project has heavily impacted other young people and me by giving us a platform to help other young people with issues they may be facing and helping them feel more empowered, educated, and less alone.

I have gained excellent communication, leadership, collaboration, and accountability skills as part of this project. I plan to use these skills and experiences gained from the project in my future academic endeavors and career. I have learned how sexual education and resources and programs are not easily accessible for teens throughout Mississippi. This information encouraged me to advocate for sex education in schools and more affordable and accessible resources and programs for teenagers locally.

Testimonials

“We are addressing a very serious challenge here in the state of Mississippi. There are so many educators who’ve talked about high teen birth rates and high STD rates in the state, and we’re actually working to solve that problem by providing information and education to young people by providing youth-friendly healthcare, by working on making health centers more youth-friendly and by doing a better job of providing services to young people. So just being able to see the impact when you think of the dozens and dozens of teachers who’ve been educated, that really means a lot.”

“We are working with Teen Health Mississippi and Project Mind Elevation has impacted my life in so many ways. Not only have I got to meet new people who know so much about the programs and the information that we work with, but I’ve also gotten to spread the knowledge that I learned to people my age to better our community as a whole.”

“THMS helped me to love myself and to understand my worth. Recognizing that I have the power of choice when it comes to my health and that my voice matters when talking to my doctors and my partners.”

Youth Partner
“The (Emergency Relief Fund) impacted our work at a time when we could not imagine how to provide for the young people. The funds allowed us to be effective to give comfort and support to 33 young people at a time when they were in a state of not knowing what was happening, how they would be cared for. Money was not coming in. All of the Reservation was totally closed.”

Youth Satisfaction Survey
We’re changing health outcomes and outlooks for young people.

Recently, we polled our youth partners to determine their overall satisfaction with our youth programs. Here are some statistics for before and after these youth joined one of our youth programs.
